Since Mooney, in trying to rescue the children who were unable to reach the shore, received injuries from which it is probable he will die. The cries of the little ones as they were being slowly burned to death were heartrending in the extreme. Mooney is almost bereft of reason, and a doctor kept over her to prevent her taking her own life.

HOW PARLIAMENT MAY OR MAY NOT BE DISSOLVED.

Americans "Doing Luncheon" - Minister Phelps and Vice's Trouble - The Last New York Heiress Snubs His Jibbets.

London, May 20.-The probability of the early dissolution of parliament is generally admitted, but the question is being debated privately among politicians of both parties, whether the premier can insist upon the right to demand a dissolution. Many leading Liberals contend that consistently he cannot, and intend to quote in the house in support of their positions. Mr. Gladstone's own assertion that no premier has a right to dissolve a parliament. Placed upon the ministry of the opposite party. Still the chances are that the premier will demand an appeal to the country, and the likelihood is equally strong that the queen will acquiesce in the demand in view of the manifest threat of the elections.

London society already shows its annoyance at the prospect of summer elections and the squads of Americans who are arriving daily are not slow to join the general depreciation, obviously for the purpose of exhibiting familiarity with English affairs and customs, though many of them are visiting London for the first time. The presence here of the unusual number of American sojourners overweighs the Minister with social duties and applications for presentation to the queen are constantly pouring in upon him. On Thursday he will present Mrs. Peter T. Barlow, Miss Marion Gordon, and Miss Schuyler, of New York, together with others whose names have not yet been announced. Already it is intimated that the Prince of Wales doesn't particularly admire the last New York heiress, whom he met at Cannes, and there is an accompanying intimation that the last New York heiress doesn't particularly care whether he admires her or not. There has been nothing of a social character in Londonable to the splendor of the royal reception last Saturday at the residence of the Comte de Paris in honor of the Princess Amalie. Some idea of the magnitude of the affair may be gathered from the fact that the line of carriages conveying the guests occupied four hours in passing through the court yard. Lord Cairns, Viscount Alton and his mother, Mrs. Bech Grant, were invited and it is understood that their invitation cards conveyed the impression that their presence would be regarded as a special favor.

The official mind of France is much troubled in consequence of the fact that the French citizens holding consular positions in the Portuguese service paid special homage to the Princess Amalie, but the additional homage to the Grand Duke and Duchess Vladimir, of Russia, were present, and with the Portuguese consuls in their attentions to the princess, make official interference with the objects of displacing the offenders extremely awkward.

WHISKY THE CAUSE.

Charles H. Reed Appropriates His Client's Check-In a Prison Cell.

New York, May 20.-Charles H. Reed, formerly district attorney of Cook county, Ill., who defended O'Rourke in his trial for the murder of President Garfield, and who has a law office at 150 Broadway, was arrested at Rossmore hotel, on Saturday last, and lodged in Ludlow street jail, in a civil suit by his client, William Campbell, of Campbell & Co. of 378 West Forty-second street, to recover money collected. Mr. Reed lived at the Rossmore hotel with his young wife. He went away before daylight on Saturday morning, and remained away all day. In the evening he returned to the hotel, and was arrested at the door.

In the jail last evening he would not talk about the case, but he reported that it was a civil not a criminal proceeding. As Mr. Reed's law office it was said that Mr. Reed had been counselor for the firm of Campbell & Co. in a suit in a western state, and that a check payable to Mr. Campbell had come into Mr. Reed's possession in settlement of the suit. As Mr. Campbell owed Mr. Reed a considerable amount, Mr. Reed having to use some money, used the check. Mr. Ashford said that the accounts between Mr. Campbell and Mr. Reed had been settled yesterday and that Mr. Reed would shortly be released from prison. As the Rossmore hotel a friend of Mr. Reed said yesterday that the amount of the check used by Mr. Reed was $1,500 and that Mr. Reed was not himself when he cashed the check.

"REVENGE, TO ARMS!"

Anarchist Weber Tells the Story of the Chicago Bomb Throwing.

TELE. ST. 20.-William Weber, a German machanic, who organized several Socialist societies here and then went to Chicago, is now here, and it is said to raise money for the defense of Chicago Anarchists. He makes the following statement: "After the trouble at the McCormick work to Monday, a meeting of our club was called, and a committee, consisting of myself, and two others were appointed to draw up a plan. This was the one headed 'Revenge, Workingmen to Arms!' It was decided that twenty bombs should be prepared for the next night. Volunteers next night were called to throw the bombs, but no one wished to speak up. It was then suggested that 500 balls be distributed and that a shell and cross bones be inscribed upon twenty of them. The person who drew the latter were to procure bombs and be on hand. This was done, and Spies is the only man who knows who were drawn. "I know that twenty men received their bombs. To arms" was the signal for the throwing of the bombs. The meeting was most thorough on Tuesday night when the police ordered the Anarchists to disperse and it is presumed that the other nineteen men had started for home, or were injured by the police revolvers which followed the throwing of the first bomb. If the police had appeared an hour sooner ninety five of these would have escaped."

Metamorphosis of the Congo Country.

Mr. A. von Dethleffsen, a German meteorologist, has been making observations at Vivi, in the country of the Congo, and reports some curious results. During about a year that he stayed there, the barometrical column did not vary more than ten millimeters; even the passage of tornadoes seemed to produce no greater effect upon it. The year is divided into rainy and dry seasons. During the latter, from May to October, no rain falls, the sun is hot, and the country is parched by the depositions from fogs. From November to April heavy showers of short duration prevail, and the water falls, in portions, sometimes as high as 100 millimeters about four inches in two hours.

Long, fine cyclones are unknown. The country is visited by rain, but, while deadly for passing to the north of the station turned the vane in a contrary direction to that of the hands of a watch, those passing it to the south turned it in a direction corresponding with them. The natives burn the tall prairie-grass in the dry seasons, causing fires that last for a long time, and produce considerable meteorological effects. The air is constantly loaded with smoke, while cumulus clouds are formed over the fires and emit lightning with thunder. One of the most remarkable meteorological phenomena of the region is the existence of a southwest wind, which, beginning at sunset, blows all night till sunrise with such force as to raise large and dangerous waves on the river.-Phenological Journal.

Departure in Nitro-Glycerine Gunners.

The various experiments that have been made during the past few years in throwing dynamite cartridges have been duly reported before. A novel departure in this line of gunnery is the shell, or projectile, the principle of which is to fill the two compartments of the shell with chemicals which, in themselves, are harmless and non-explosive, and to manufacture an explosive compound-nitro-glycerine-by combining these ingredients during the flight of the projectile. This departure from all experiments that have been hitherto made, is so great that this subject will doubtless be found of interest to our readers. During all preliminary handling of the shell these ingredients-the acid and glycerine-are kept separate from each other; and the final preliminary handling of the ingredients are brought together, and the chemical action takes place during the journey.-Scientific American.

In the Beginning of Insurance.

When the principles of life and other insurance first came into general use, in the early part of this century, it was used for very little else than a means of gambling. All sorts of wild-cat companies and impracticable schemes were started, and men would insure for everything and anything. In London it is on record that such companies as the following were not only started, but that, so great was the mania there for gambling of all kinds, they actually found supporters.

A Dakota Resolution.

HEBON, Dak. May 20.-At the staid and devoted meeting held Monday night this resolution was unanimously adopted: "Resolved, that it is the sense of this mass meeting that if congress adjourns without passing any act for the admission of South Dakota, or for division on an east and west line, and if the constitutional convention shall submit to the people the question of the repeal of section 1 of the ordinance and if the people shall vote to repeal said section, then it be the duty of the people of the present, acting in conformity with the legal precedent of other states as they have been reinforced by the United States senate, this winter, to assemble and to consider upon the actual discharge of their duties and powers."

Violated the "Seat" Law.

CHICAGO, May 20.-Suit was yesterday brought against Mendel Bros., a big State street dry goods firm, for violation of the city ordinance, compelling shop keepers to provide seats for their customers. Two weeks ago the health department began an investigation, and discovered that the law was generally violated. All the proprietors of the large shops down town agreed to comply with the law, and with the exception of Mendel Bros., it is said have provided seats. The suit against the firm will furnish an opportunity of testing the validity of the law.

Oil Is Panicky.

NEW YORK, May 20.-A decidedly nervous feeling prevailed in the petroleum market on account of business on the coast dated exchange. The attendance of brokers was unusually large. At the start pipe line certificates showed a slight drop of prices, the price being 60c, but before the close of the first quarter of an hour there was a decline to 61c. A little later the market rallied again, and at 10:30 a. m. there was an advance to 62c. At noon the market was being fairly sustained, and it was evident that the panicky feeling was abating.

Boston Board of Trade.

BOSTON, May 20.-The Boston board of trade has filed a petition in insolvency. Its liabilities aggregate $11,250.18, and its assets $10,492.34. The hearing in the petition will be held at 10 o'clock on Friday. It is said that the board will be able to settle the matter outside of the court as many Boston merchants will undoubtedly contribute to the liquidation of the debt. One condition of the settlement will be to pay $1,000 if the remainder is retained.

Ball Runnings.

PITTSBURGH, Pa. May 20.-At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pittsburgh and Wayne & Chicago railroad held in this city to-day, three vacancies in the board of directors were filled by the election of John N. Johnston, William Harper and L. J. Lester. There were 10,314 shares voted. The three members elected to-day serve four years. The financial report will be ready in a few days.

JOLIET, Ill. May 20.-"Dutch" O'Keefe, the Chicago hotel box thief sent to the Joliet prison for stealing a ball box from Rowland's lively stable at the spring election of last year, was released from prison yesterday. A select delegation of "Dutch" Chicago admirers came down on an afternoon train and escorted him to Joliet to await the Chicago fair. They put in the time sampling champagne and making merry over the release.
